

Americares Honors Mylan with Power of Partnership Award

June 11, 2018

Award Presented at HDA Business and Leadership Conference

STAMFORD, Conn., June 11, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Americares, in partnership with the Healthcare Distribution Alliance (HDA), has presented its annual Power of Partnership Award to Mylan, in recognition of its outstanding commitment to increasing access to health care around the world. Mylan is among Americares most dedicated and longstanding supporters, providing pharmaceutical products for the organization's health programs for people affected by poverty or disaster.

Americares President and CEO Michael J. Nyenhuis presented the award today at HDA's Business and Leadership Conference in Colorado Springs. Americares and HDA created the Power of Partnership Award in 2005 to recognize HDA-member pharmaceutical manufacturing and distribution organizations that have shown exceptional dedication to expanding access to health care for disadvantaged populations.

"Mylan is one of our most reliable and committed supporters, providing monthly product donations that improve health and save lives all over the world," Nyenhuis said. "Whether we are providing medicine to disaster survivors or bringing quality health care to remote areas around the world, Mylan is always there."

Mylan has supported Americares for nearly 30 years, providing more than $670 million worth of medicine for patients in need. Americares delivers Mylan products to a network of 4,000 health centers worldwide, as well as health facilities treating disaster survivors. In recent years, Mylan supported Americares responses to the 2015 Nepal earthquake as well as the 2017 hurricanes. For Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria alone, Mylan donated $5 million in quality medicine.

"Supporting our communities by providing access to much-needed medicine when disasters strike is a critical way for Mylan to help ensure that the health and wellbeing of families are addressed during times of crisis," said Mylan CEO Heather Bresch. "We are extremely proud of our long-standing partnership with Americares and the work we've been able to achieve together to give back to communities around the world over the past three decades. We are humbled and honored to receive this year's Power of Partnership Award and look forward to partnering with Americares for decades to come."

"Power of Partnership honorees display an extraordinary commitment to providing access to medicines in the most critical situations," said HDA President and CEO John M. Gray. "HDA, together with Americares, congratulates Mylan for their generosity and dedication in ensuring vulnerable populations receive the care they need, when they need it."

About Americares

Americares is a health-focused relief and development organization that saves lives and improves health for people affected by poverty or disaster.
