

Mylan Provides Statement on Generic Advair Diskus®

June 13, 2018

On the afternoon of June 13, 2018, we received an update from the U.S. Food & Drug Administration ("FDA") concerning our pending approval for Generic Advair Diskus® that FDA has identified minor deficiencies to be relayed in a Complete Response Letter on June 27, 2018. Because our Abbreviated New Drug Application has received a priority designation, our approval could be received prior to the standard 90-day time period following the date of our response to the Complete Response Letter.

Upon receipt of the official Complete Response Letter, we will determine what, if any, impact that it could have on our full year 2018 outlook.
